About Me

I'm 33 years old and was born in Lisbon.

I studied Computer Equipment Management at the Gustave Eiffel Professional School. I later graduated in Systems Management and Computing from Atlântica University. I'm currently studying for a master's degree in Computer Engineering and Web Technology at the Aberta University.

I've been working for 12 years in a construction company, currently as an Infrastructure Specialist.

I'm a dedicated professional with a deep love of learning new things.

My Work

I am currently managing the process of migrating the entire IT infrastructure to the M365 platform and also to a global Active Directory.

I work daily with various platforms, including NetBox, Fortinet, Zimbra Mail Client, Nextcloud, Check Point and Rundeck, as well as various operating systems, such as Windows, Linux and MacOS.
